Now the Spirit of the Lord left King Saul and an evil spirit began to torture him. Saul's servants suggested that they search the country and find a man who could play the harp and sooth him. King Saul agreed.

They found David, the son of Jesse, and brought him to the king. David was wise, brave, good looking and a fine musician.

He became King Saul's armour-bearer.

And whenever the evil spirit would come on King Saul, then David would play his harp. King Saul would feel better and the evil spirit would go away.

Lord, thank you for putting your Holy Spirit on musicians and the music that sets people free.
